

Heroic Graphic Novel Rubric

Criteria	Advanced	Proficient	Partially Proficient	Not Proficient
Colored Pencil Technique	Student demonstrates excellent technical skill with the stippling technique. Use of stippling is found in every panel.	Student demonstrates a high degree of technical skill with the stippling technique. Use of stippling is found in almost every panel.	Student's technical skill with the stippling technique is developing. Use of stippling is found in half of the panels.	Student demonstrates a low degree of technical skill with the stippling technique. Use of stippling is found in only a few panels.
Facial Proportions	Student demonstrates excellent facial proportions. Five panels or more are used to demonstrate facial proportions.	Student demonstrates proficient facial proportions. Four panels are used to demonstrate facial proportions.	Student's facial proportions are developing. Two or Three panels are used to demonstrate facial proportions.	Little or no attention was giving to facial proportions. Only one panel was used to demonstrate facial proportions.
Developing a Plot Line	Student develops well-constructed plot line in their DW and is easily found in their graphic novel. Student can identify plot line within the work of their peers.	Student develops plot line in their DW and can be found in their graphic novel. Student can identify plot line within the work of their peers.	Student partially develops plot line in their DW but it is not transferred to their graphic novel. Student struggles to identify all parts of plot line within the work of their peers.	Student does not develop a plot line in their DW or in their graphic novel. Student does not identify plot line within the work of their peers.